

ABSTRACT OF THE INVENTION

An apparatus is provided for an inventory transport device having a fixed section and a movable section. The apparatus comprises a RFID reader device mounted on the movable section; and a RFID power device mounted on the fixed section. The RFID power device provides power to the RFID reader device without physical contact.